

The Italian Embassy in Beijing

Announces the “Science, She Says!”

Purpose

The Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation (MAECI) is willing to establish the “Science, She Says! Award” to recognize an outstanding junior female scientist who has remarkably contributed to the advancement of science and technology, while performing her research in one of the following regions:

- Africa and the Middle East
- Asia and the Pacific
- Europe
- Central and South America and the Caribbean
- North America

One candidate will be selected for each of the five regions, the determining factor being the place of work in the last 2 years. Italian researchers are not eligible for this prize.

The fourth edition of the Award will take place in autumn 2026, with an award ceremony organized by the relevant Italian Diplomatic Mission for the selected recipient. The award will consist of an engraved medal and a diploma to be presented at the award ceremony.

Eligibility

- The “Science She, Says! Award” is assigned to an outstanding female scientist for her contribution to the advancement of bilateral scientific cooperation in any field of science and technology, through their activity in Asia and the Pacific:
- The nominee should be resident in the country where she is nominated for the award, at least since January 1st 2024.
- The nomination should be submitted by an eminent scientist who is holding a leading position in a Scientific Academy, University, Research Institute or S&T Department of the Government of the country in which the nominee is working. Self-nominations are not
